RECOGNITIONS

JULY 2025

STACEY DAMRON

I would like to nominate my house manager, Stacey Damron. She worked the whole day on 6/7/25. She didn't do what a lot of managers do and sit at her desk and get her things done. Mind you, she did have her own stuff that needed to be done. However, she stepped up and helped do DSP work. Even when I offered to do something she said no that's okay I got it. I wouldn't want to work for anyone else. She is a great example to her team.

MAGGIE MILLER

I want to give a PIF to a couple of ladies who may need to hear how amazing they are. Maggie Miller keeps it together! She is a big help at the summer camp. It's only week 2 and a lot has happened for them, but they sure know how to work it out. I give big ups to you and all you do! Hang in there!

CHRISTY IRWIN

I want to give a PIF to a couple of ladies who may need to hear how amazing they are. Christy Irwin is always on top of the game, and even if she isn't behind the scenes, well she sure makes it look like it. I could not even imagine doing what she does for the summer camp, and she really works with the receptionist at the ARC trying not to give her more work than she should have to do. Christy you are great!

Christy Irwin has done an amazing job supporting her staff at summer camp and the therapy team during the kick off week to Summer Camp 2025. She has been very responsive to calls, texts, and emails and maintained a calm and professional composure through it all. It is evident that Christy works hard to embody ADEC's core values of dedicated teamwork and has modeled how to rise to the challenge with patience, flexibility, and grace!

CATHERINE HALL

Yesterday, a behaviorist pulled me aside to commend this direct support professional and gave a good report on what she witnessed. It involved helping to de-escalate a client who needed additional support to resolve a concern. This is nothing new to me, with this staff but is definitely worthy of recognition. Thank you, Catherine! I appreciate your efforts to calm the 'seas' when the 'winds' pick up. Your involvement with these matters are truly appreciated!

TIMOTHY HUSER

Doc chose to participate this year by taking a group of clients to Special Olympics Summer Games for state tournament. It is a weekend long event and a lot of work. The guys had a great time and even brought home some metals and ribbons. Due to a mishap, Doc had to run to a pharmacy and wait several hours for medications to be available for pick up so that no medications were missed. Doc is assisting staff with going to a SB Cubs game this upcoming weekend. Thanks Doc for stepping in and helping out with these outings! Your hard work and dedication doesn't go unnoticed!

JEFF WAGNER

A few weeks ago, Jeff took a group of clients to Special Olympics Summer Games for state tournament. It is a weekend long event and a lot of work. The guys had a great time and even brought home some metals and ribbons. Jeff goes above and beyond, especially when it comes to outings. He takes the guys to church every week, helps out with Aktion Club and Jeriah once a month, and even some baseball games. Thank you Jeff for always helping out when you can!
